

Madison Lager

holds a BS and MS in Applied Mathematics and BS in Religious Studies from UCA, where she has been a Math instructor.

She attended Southside High School where her favorite class was AP BC Calculus.

Her favorite college class was Numerical Analysis.

Her dream job would be a researcher/analyst for Pew Research Center.

She was led to this path through her love of Math and teaching.

Her advice:

Work hard- don't be afraid to ask questions! Ignore the self-doubt- you are supposed to be here! And don't worry if this doesn't seem cool now, it will be in college 😊
